

The Andrea de Man Award for Excellence in English

2020

The Faculty of the Department of English is pleased to announce the Andrea de Man Award for Excellence in English.

Andrea de Man, Coordinator of the department's Undergraduate Degree Program, beloved by undergraduate majors, staff, and faculty over the course of a 22-year career, died August 14, 2008. In recognition of her many years of service, loyalty, and spirit the English Department established in her honor the Andrea de Man Award for Excellence in English. Funds were raised through the generosity of 22 years of undergraduate alumni whom she advised during her career.

This year's award will be granted to the English Honors student who has contributed the most to the intellectual life of the English Department at the Awards Night ceremony, on Wednesday, April 22, 2020.
